

Hosting and sponsorship

Image

Being a host is a positive and rewarding experience; helping someone in need, forming new friendships and learning about new cultures. It can also be challenging, so it is important hosts take time to consider this carefully, to ensure that the hosting experiences works for everyone. Think about hosting as co-living, hosts share their private space and guests live in someone's else's home. Introduction to Everyday Co-living through Homes for Ukraine scheme | Migration Yorkshire

If you want to offer a home to people fleeing Ukraine, you can become a sponsor as part of the Homes for Ukraine scheme. Please use this link to record your interest.

You can read more about sponsorship under the Homes for Ukraine scheme on the government's website.

Pre-arrival

Sponsors can also find their own matches independently and apply with a nominated guest where they already know the person they wish to sponsor. Here is a list of approved organisations that can also assist with matching sponsors with applicants.

Pre-arrival consider your costs, when preparing space in your home. Be aware that thank you payments are £350 a month up to 12 months and then thereafter £500 a month up to 36 months (depending on guest visa).

Use your local council's Homes for Ukraine' team for support and information.

Communication with guests

The more information and knowledge people staying with you have in advance about your expectations around hosting, the better.

1. It would be helpful to agree in advance, on two meeting review dates: the first date, can be 'review date' to discuss how the relationship is going, and then the second date, when the 'guests' are expected to leave. This can of course be changed and re-negotiated but knowing things in advance seems to work well for people, as it makes it easier for them to plan when they know what is expected of them.
2. It is helpful to set boundaries with our guests, for example, around the use of spaces, house rules and your daily routine. This may feel formal, but it has an impact on the experiences of co-living and can always be reviewed.
3. In terms of finances, be clear about who pays for what. For example, food and household supplies.
4. If your guest's English is limited try using a translation app on your phone (for simple translations)

Resources

Resources that are available to support sponsors on the Homes for Ukraine scheme:

- Practical guide for Ukrainians in the UK and UK Hosts
- Reset's Homes for Ukraine Sponsor Toolkit has information for hosts and some useful links at the end.
- VITA have a downloadable Welcome Pack which is intended to be completed by the UK host with practical information about their property and the local area, and contains links and phone numbers for the guest.

Try to take some time to read about or attend training on the following key areas:

1. Background understanding of Ukrainian history and culture
2. How to look after your own wellbeing as a host
3. Recognising that we may understand differently 'what support means'
4. Understanding what trauma is and how to support people, who are traumatised.

Sign up for a free online interactive training session for those who have welcomed guests or considering becoming a host on the Homes for Ukraine Scheme.

What you'll learn:

- Understand the roles and responsibilities of hosts and the local authority
 - How to set realistic expectations for yourself and guests
 - How to support your guests in living independent lives
- How to establish healthy boundaries to safeguard wellbeing

Post-arrival

Reach out to organisations, who can help you and your guest to integrate and start to feel more part of their community. For example, charities and connect to other Ukrainians/hosts in area.

Review 'A practical guide for hosts first 6-8 weeks' which includes how to support guests to access services (eg schools, benefits); and a list of what to do to help guests settle in.

Communication with guests

1. Give people time to settle and adjust and continue to have regular open discussions, with guests about timelines of hosting. For example, arrange some monthly check- ins (maybe share a meal) and discuss how they are doing and plans for moving

- on after hosting.
2. Think carefully about being helpful. For example, ask the guest what support/ advice they may need as unsolicited advice can create tensions.
 3. If communication and co-living situation is becoming difficult, please reach out to your local council 'Homes for Ukraine' team for advice/ guidance.

Training

Sign up for Preparing for the end of Hosting session for those who have welcomed refugees on the Homes for Ukraine Scheme.

This is an hour and a half long online interactive training session. It will help you plan for the end of your hosting from the very beginning. We will discuss tools and techniques to help your guest prepare for living independently, navigating system on their own and make informed decisions about their future.

Please note the new dates will be added shortly. The training will take place between September to December. In a meantime you can email us at ukraine.enquiries@migrationyorkshire.org.uk to be added to a waitlist.

How Hosts Training session

The aim is to help participants understand the role of the host as well as the Local Authority in the Homes for Ukraine programme. We will look at some of the experiences of hosts as well as refugees before the hosting. That will take us beyond the boundaries to set as a sponsor, which both reinforces the empowerment of the host as well as helping to take care of the refugees.

Move on

When it's time for your guests to leave you, they may ask you for guidance on what to do next. It's always good to have conversations around ending your support early on.

Research on Hosting

- Take a look at “We are learning together” Yorkshire and Humber Homes for Ukraine Host Feedback Survey 2023: Quantitative Report.

The aim of this survey was to collect data and information on hosts across Yorkshire and Humber on the Homes for Ukraine Scheme, their experiences of hosting and ways to improve similar schemes in the future.
