What is the role of a PCSO?

- Police Community Support Officers (PCSOs) work within the community and were introduced to increase a police presence on the streets.
- The role of a PCSO is varied but will primarily involve interaction with the public and assisting police officers at scenes of crimes and incidents.
- PCSOs play a vital role in the community as many people feel more comfortable talking to a PCSOs rather than police officers and they can offer crime prevention advice and play an important role in preventing anti-social behaviour.
- PCSOs do not have the same powers as police officers but depending on which force they work in there are various powers that can be given to them, dealing with offences such as parking, littering and confiscation of alcohol, amongst others.
